Who is Child's Play Photography?

Child's Play photography was started by owner & mum Jess Stephens over 6 years ago as Jess Ann Photography. Jess works alongside a small team of 3 other photographers who are great with kids. The whole team have blue cards and are up to date with all child privacy and safety policies.

What do we offer?

We offer a mix of traditional portrait and play ground photography. There is no one and done here! We are quick to make connections and get the best photo's we can of each child - allowing it to be very much child led. You have the choice of class composite photo's (ELC) or traditional class photo's (Kindergarten). Don't want class photo's? That's fine too!

How does photo week work?

With child privacy and safety front of mind, only children who have registered and given consent to Child's Play Photography will be photographed. We are usually on site for 2-4 mornings depending on the size of your centre. Our team make it as easy as possible on your staff and you will be provided with a list of children to be captured each day in the week prior.

What processes do we have in place to ensure children's privacy/safety?

- not registered/ not photographed and wont appear in the class photo
- families receive their own individual password protected gallery of images
- class photo is not provided digitally/print only/children's first names only (unless a traditional class photo and approved by Kindergarten)
- all staff have blue cards
- images stored on external hard drive at Jessie Stephens home for a period of 12 months before being deleted at her discretion
- Editing only done in house and not outsourced to a third party

Do staff get photo's?

In addition to a seamless and positive experience we also offer updated complementary staff digital images and a copy of each class photo in 8x10 print. Staff with children at the centre, who choose to register, will also be offered a photo or two with their child/ren to be included in their online gallery for purchase.
